CENTRAL SCHOOL

LAKWOOD, NEW YORK

*J*RADITIONALLY, it is only the senior class who says "Farewell" to the old school in June. It is the accepted rule that they will close its doors behind them at that time and take with them a store of fond memories of the place where they have spent so many of the years of their lives among friends who will ever remain dear.

This year this tradition will be broken at Southwestern, and all junior and senior high school students, as well as their teachers, will be leaving the halls of their familiar schools.

When schools open in September, the seniors will, as usual, be scattered to the four winds, but the other classes will be entering the new central school for which we have waited so long.

However great the anticipation with which we look forward to the future, there is always a note of sadness and uncertainty accompanying the leaving of the known and the venturing into the unknown. Perhaps we seniors may find comfort in the thought that we are not the only ones who are pulling up long established roots and transferring to new fields. For our teachers, some of whom have been here over twenty years, it will be a time of parting from friends and well-known scenes. Many new adjustments will need to be made by both students and teachers.

The lower classmen, of course, are eagerly looking forward to entering the new school, but even they will never forget the days they spent in the old schools in this, their farewell year.

In Dedication

Pauline Lopus, Celoron Advisor

Mildred Burk, Lakewood Advisor

The Class of '54 is proud to dedicate this Centralian to Mrs. Mildred Burk and Miss Pauline Lopus, the yearbook sponsors.

Miss Lopus is not new to Celoron. She was a member of the first class graduating from the present Celoron High School building. After her graduation she entered Fredonia State Teachers College. After receiving her diploma from Fredonia she taught first in the primary grades of the Celoron and Glidden branches of our school.

Although Miss Lopus now has her hands full with the seventh and eighth grade citizenship education classes, she is always willing to help any other student needing her assistance. Everyone in the cast of the senior play will remember how patiently and capably she directed it. "One Foot in Heaven" would never have been such a big success without Miss Lopus behind the curtains helping us whenever we needed her. Miss Lopus also sponsors the Teen-Age Talent Club of which many of us were members back when we were freshmen and sophomores.

Besides all these other activities, Miss Lopus is the Celoron sponsor of our yearbook. She has cheerfully contributed her time and her services toward making this one of the best yearbooks ever published. We know we will never forget all that Miss Lopus has done for us so we want to repay her in a small way by dedicating to her this, the 1954 Centralian.

Mrs. Burk attended grade school in Union City, Pennsylvania, but was a member of the last class graduating from the old Lakewood High School. Mrs. Burk also was graduated from Fredonia State Teachers College. She taught sixth grade at Randolph, and at the North Side School at East Williston, New York. Mrs. Burk was a substitute teacher for all the grades at Lakewood from 1935 to 1943, and started teaching full time at Lakewood High School in September, 1943.

Mrs. Burk has, in her nineteen years at Lakewood, been the secretary of the Faculty Club, president of the Faculty Club, secretary of the P.T.A., and a member of the faculty play. At the present time Mrs. Burk is the seventh and eighth grade mathematics teacher and one of the eighth grade advisors besides her duties as yearbook advisor.

Mrs. Burk has worked diligently, year after year, to improve the yearbooks. She has spent countless time and effort to make this and past Centralians a success. Her efforts have long seemed to go unrecognized, so we should like to use this dedication to show our appreciation and that of the staff of past yearbooks, to Mrs. Burk for her competent advice and ability.

WELLINGTON C. WASHBURN

Last July a beloved teacher was taken suddenly from our midst. We grieve the loss of Wellington Washburn

Mr. Washburn was a graduate of Buffalo State Teachers College and had earned his Masters degree from St. Bonaventure University.

He had made a real place for himself in our school by his diligent work for the pupils, his fellow teachers, and the community. He was extremely accurate and precise in all his work, first as shop instructor, and later as a teacher of English in the junior high school.

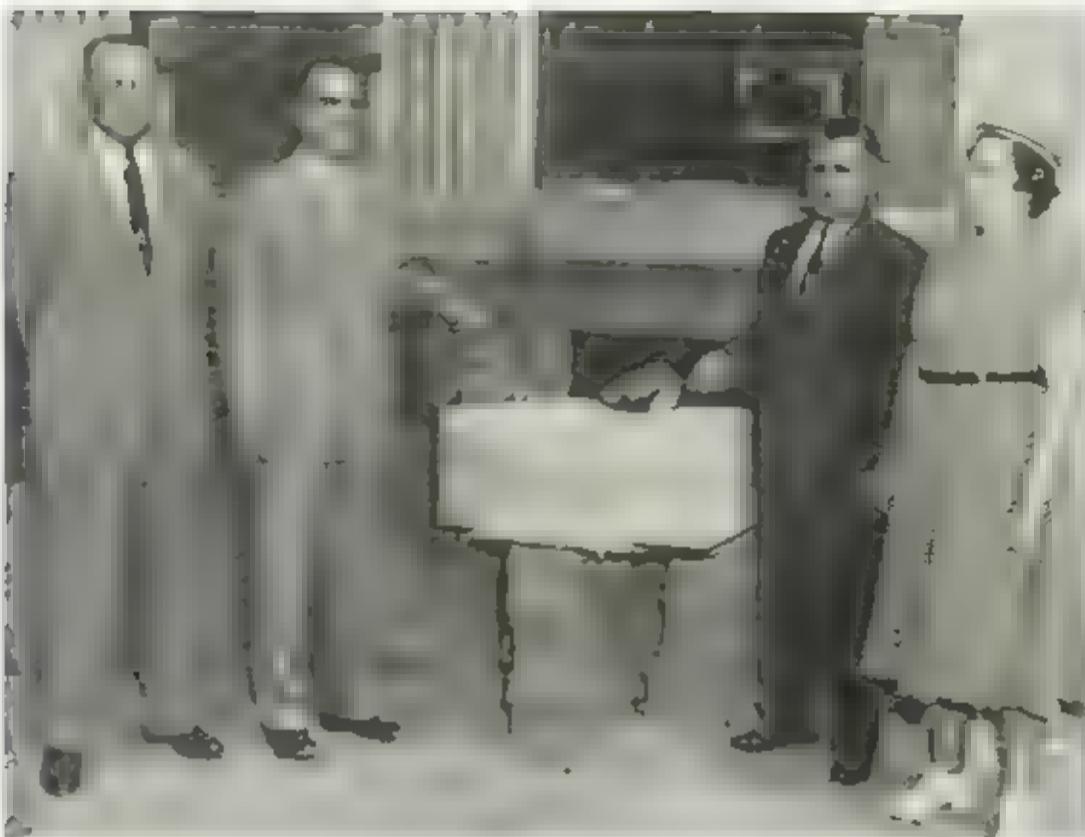

Mr. Washburn's ready laugh and cheery disposition, and his lively interest in all school affairs was warm encouragement to us all. We shall long remember him.

Administration

NOW is the time for us seniors to say "Hail and Farewell" to the teachers who have helped us so much these past twelve years, and to wish them success in their new work. Some of them will be assuming new positions and new responsibilities next year, even as you and I. Our thanks, too, to all others who have helped make school a wonderful place to spend the best years of our life — the Board of Education, the office and maintenance staff and cafeteria workers.

Mr. Weiss and Mrs. Helgren have their troubles as they pack up to leave Lakewood for the new school!

Mr. Rood, Mr. Carlson, Mr. Johnson, and Mrs. Stranigan preside at the laying of the cornerstone of the new school in June, 1953

Almost unknown to most of the students as a group, the two women and seven men who make up the Southwestern Central School Board of Education are, nevertheless, interested in obtaining the best education possible, not only for their own children but the children of their neighbors as well.

Working unbelievably long hours at a job which has no salary, their only reward is the satisfaction of knowing each child in the district is getting the best educational training possible because of their untiring efforts.

This year's board has been under the leadership of Mr. Vern Johnson, president, and Mrs. Lois Hough, vice president. The other members are Mr. Harvey Carlson, Mr. Walter Davis, Jr., Mr. Earl Lawson, Mr. Sheldon Myregaard, Mr. Frank Nutt, Mr. Kenneth Sonne, and Mrs. Mary Stranigan.

The board is divided into various committees with chairmen as follows: Building and Grounds, Mr. Carlson; Cafeteria, Mrs. Stranigan; Finance, Mrs. Hough; Teachers, Mrs. Stranigan; and Transportation, Mr. Sonne.

To help them to carry out their plans and guide them in their decisions concerning school matters the board has the Supervising Principal, Mr. Holland Rood, the Assistant Supervising Principal, Mr. Fulton McKay, and the high school principal, Mr. Cloise Swearingen. At present Mr. McKay and Mr. Swearingen are the building principals at Celoron and Lakewood and help to co-ordinate Southwestern's many buildings into one unified system.

Mrs. Margaret Farnsworth, Clerk of the Board, advises them on many matters, and her responsibilities are great.

To guide all of them there is the ever-efficient, ever-faithful Mrs. Dorothy B. Connelly, District Superintendent of Schools and her son, Mr. Marcus Connelly, who is the school lawyer.

The board, too, is looking forward to moving the junior and senior high schools from the present branch schools to the beautiful new building on the Hunt Road next fall. The board takes great pride in this building and trusts that all who enter its doors, whether to teach, to learn, or to help maintain it, will take the same pride, so that it will always be not only a place of beauty but a place where only the best in education becomes a tradition.

Southwestern Central—where so many dreams will come true.

As we find it time to say farewell, many of our memories of Lakewood will center around.

The Art department — and the self-expression we found there among the paints and brushes;

The Health department — and the annual physicals and the more frequent admittance slips;

The Home Economics department — where we could always smell delightful odors of things cooking and see fine wearing apparel in the making;

The Industrial Arts department — with its fascinating array of tools and the machines we could really learn to run by ourselves;

The Library — where we found relaxation and entertainment — even as we quenched our thirst for knowledge;

The Music department — with its opportunities for revealing our hidden talents in the vocal and instrumental areas;

The Physical Education department — where sportsmanship and fair play were taught along with fun, exercise, and physical development;

Many of us found inspiration in these activities which will be the foundation of our future careers.

On the other hand, those of us at Celoron have equally vivid memories as we take our leave of these:

The Art department — where our castles in the air somehow came into being on paper or in clay;

The Commerce department — with its busy hum of typewriters and crisp command of dictation;

The Health department — where good advice was dispensed as readily as blue slips for class admittance;

The Home Economics department — where we learned that style helps the well-known home-cooking as the way to a man's heart;

The Industrial Arts department — where we learned there is a more artistic way to do everything from building a table to hitting our thumb with a hammer;

The Library — where we learned that reading

one good book could often whet our appetite for another;

The Physical Education department — where we learned the value of teamwork, and the ability to be good winners as well as good losers;

The useful information we learned here have helped us become better adjusted for our future careers.

That We Might Grow . . .

While our contacts with some of the "special subjects" has been infrequent, there are those others which were our daily companions throughout our junior and senior high school days. To these, then, our thanks, in parting:

The Citizenship Education department — for its help in making us aware of the responsibilities of citizenship in a democratic way of life;

The English and Language departments — for a background in the use of our native tongue and an appreciation of the literature of the ages;

The Mathematics department — for skills and methods necessary to living in a complicated world;

The Office — for guidance and understanding, advice and suggestions to set us on the path of the future:

The Science department — for a foundation in the whys and wherefores of the earth on which we live and the universe beyond.

And Reach Our Goal.

On leaving Lakewood those of us who have found ourselves in daily contact with the regular curriculum take with us information and inspiration from:

The Citizenship Education department — of the background of our country's greatness upon which we must build for the future;

The Commerce department — where many of us learned skills which will enable us to find positions in the business world soon after we graduate;

The English and Language department — which has given us a taste for culture and the arts;

The Mathematics department — which has shown us information can be practical as well as fascinating;

The Science department — where we found that only by experimentation can we prove facts.

Much of this information will but cause us to seek more in the same fields as we mature.

Many of the grade teachers, also, will find that this is the last year they will be in their present classrooms.

Some grades were changed during the year when one wing of the new high school building was opened to some of the fifth and sixth grade students. This allowed other students who had occupied quarters in the local church and the fire hall to move into regular classrooms once more.

As the present Lakewood High School will, from now on, be used only for grades, more changes will take place by next September.

It will be quite a change for the grade teachers when the high school students bid their last farewell to the Lakewood halls and the entire building is turned over to children of the kindergarten and first six grades.

Grade teachers of the Celoron Branch have spent this past eventful year separated into four buildings. After school started in the fall part of the fifth and sixth grades moved to the junior high wing of the new high school on the Hunt Road and other rearrangements were made. This made possible the elimination of a partition in the first grade room and allowed each teacher to have an entire room to herself. Four grades remain at Glidden and two at Palmer's Corners.

With the end of school this spring the teachers in the old grade building will be saying a sad farewell to the place where a few of them have taught for over twenty years. This move is especially sad to those who have known this school for many years as it will never be used as a school again.

Both students and teachers, however, are looking forward to occupying newly redecorated rooms in the present high school building which, from now on, will be a school for grades only.

We seniors have become so used to the idea of belonging to a close-knit group that it is strange to think that from now on we will no longer be a "class" and meet our problems as a group. From now on each will go his separate way as an individual. However, each will carry with him some effect of having been a member of this group. How strong the attachments we have made here, and how lasting the effects upon us of our years spent in this close association only time can tell.

Classes

Moving-up Day this June will see the greatest change any such day has ever known in the annals of Southwestern. Like the occupants of small cocoons emerge to spread their wings in larger spheres, these classes will go forth from the old to try the new. These are the students who will form the first foundations of what is to be a long-enduring monument to the generosity and thoughtfulness of our school district. Theirs will be the task of building the new from those experiences which they have known in the old.

Barbara H., Wally, and Barbara T. compare the pictures of the old and the new. Can you believe it's really ours?

Juniors Prepare to Step...

"Off with the old! On with the new!" It's not quite that easy to leave the old school and enter the new, but who can look unhappy when we have so much to which to look forward?

Our junior year has been a busy year. The annual Junior play always makes up a great part of the excitement of junior year, and this year was no exception. Under the competent direction of Mrs. Kistler, we presented a gay comedy, "The Little Dog Laughed."

April sixth we swelled our treasury even more by holding a bake sale at the P. T. A. meeting.

Each year the senior class honors the juniors with a midwinter prom. This year's prom was one of the best ever. The winter theme was elaborately carried out in the decorations centered by a huge snowman.

Where We Have Shown the Way.

Next year's seniors! The first senior class in the new school! That is something so fine to think about that it is hard to feel too sad at saying good-bye to the faithful old school we are leaving behind

Our last year here has been an eventful one. Our first big event was a new homeroom teacher, a new member of the faculty, Mr. Edward Smith.

With Jim Miller again leading the class as president, aided by Gary Johnson as vice president, with Marlene Paquin and Judy Love accepting the roles of secretary and treasurer, we were off to a good start.

The gym of the school acted as a cafeteria one evening when we presented a successful "Penny Supper", now a tradition with the Celoron Junior Class. Everyone in the class enjoyed working with the parents and teachers who generously assisted us.

Another evening after a home basketball game we had a very decorative dance.

The highlight of our year's activities came on February 13 when the seniors honored us with a glorious prom with the appropriate name, "Winter Wonderland". We were immensely pleased with this annual honor and are looking forward to next year when we can give one at the new school for the next Junior Class.

Sophomores Plan to Follow...

In early September we started a successful year under the capable guidance of James Peters, president; Larry Allen, vice-president; Wendy Williams, secretary; and Sally Gross, treasurer.

The high-light of our year as sophomores was the "get-acquainted" party we held with the Lakewood sophomores. Later in the season we planned a talent show and some fund-raising activities.

We worked very diligently on the baccalaureate service for the seniors because this was the first event that we performed in the new school.

Everyone is patiently awaiting next year when we will fill the dignified position as juniors of the new school and though we will miss this home, the saying goes, "Make new friends but keep the old. One is silver and the other is gold".

Where We Have Led.

The Sophomore Class had a Sock Hop March

26. The decorating committee did a very good job on the gymnasium, and even had a paper napkin sock suspended from the ceiling. All in all it was a successful party

We also put on an Easter Assembly of Choral Speaking, April 14, with the help of Mrs. Kistler

The new members of our class this year are Lois Jones from Sugar Grove, and Betty Jean Scholten from Jamestown.

Election of capable officers was the first step for the Freshmen upon returning to school in September. Roger Ball was chosen to preside over the business meetings assisted by Hugh Hamilton. The minutes were submitted by Donya Warner and the financial standing by Jack Mathews.

James Ellison was chosen to aid in choosing assemblies for next year. Efficient Ruth Ostrom represented the class on the Student Council.

In June the class enjoyed the traditional class picnic. June also marked the time of leaving the Celoron Freshman Class and embarking upon our career as Sophomores, combined with the Lakewood students, as the first such class in Southwestern.

Who Could Forget? The first day of school last September, when we suddenly realized we were in high school — the way we got out of the school in nothing flat at the beginning of Christmas vacation to keep from being initiated by the upper classmen — the thrill of receiving our Preliminary Certificates in assembly — Moving-up Day when we could take the assembly seats of the Soph's — Miss Helphinstine and Mr. Munson as homeroom sponsors?

Great Success Ahead.

Is that new school going to be big enough? Ten new students were added to the list of Lakewood freshmen this year!

Ed. Knoepfle was chosen to conduct our meetings when we held our first class meeting, with Ronnie Burstrom to preside when he was absent. Sarah Farnsworth was elected secretary and Anne Johnson, treasurer. To represent the Freshmen on the Student Council we chose Jeanne Schneider and Rolly Carlson, while Jean Farge and Joe Scorse were the representatives to the Centralian Staff. Dave Lange has been class reporter.

Highlighting the activities of the Freshmen was a Freshman Frolic, a round and square dance

Who could forget . . . the thrill we got when we realized we were, at long last, FRESHMEN our business meetings getting acquainted with all our new classmates the FUN we had at the Frolic . . . looking forward to saying good bye to this school and saying hello to the new how much we've liked having Mrs. Jones and Mr. Windoft as class advisors?

Scenes from Celoron...

It will be a long time before the students forget the fun they've had during their school days. No doubt the first thing they will remember is the hustle and bustle of transferring from Celoron to Lakewood, and vice versa, to attend morning classes. Their fellow classmates will always remember Miss Jones's "jungle"; and the chorus' music will always ring in their ears. And, of course, as food for the stomach provides food for thought, they will once more remember the savory foods in their school cafeteria. The Junior Drama Club forms a foundation which becomes firmer as the students become more adept at making the best of their talents to entertain.

We're far from being self-sufficient — yet we think it was in the groups of over the last year's grade from Cedar High and the first two men in the new school last September.

September found us at last, upstairs! We were in one room again so we were again split into two homerooms. One group went to Mrs. Chase and one to Mrs. Dennis.

In Mrs. Chase's room the girls did not have every officer elected was a girl. Want the boys ever learn to stick together? Or do they like girl officers? Shirley Carlson and Marion Miller got along well with Nancy Boers and Sylvia Lund ström as treasurer and secretary respectively.

In Mrs. Dennis' room the boys must have got their heads together because Leroy Schroeder was elected president with Roberta Fornie as his assistant. Ervan Bidow wrote the minutes and Milton Spence collected the dues.

Robert Kornhoff and Janet Aar represented us on Student Council and David Till on the assembly committee.

It will seem strange not to be coming back to Celo on next fall after all our years here. A great change has been made in our school site, but one to which we look forward. We feel very lucky that we can be the first class to spend four complete years in the new Southwestern Central.

Anyone ever get lost coming to school? It's a wonder with all the moving we do. Starting out from the Celocon Kindergarten some of us went to the Celocon Grade School, some to Chieiden, some to Primers Corners. By the time we were in fifth grade we had managed to get back to gether again to spend two whole years in the Celocon Grade School. This year finds us in the Celocon High School and next year finds us climbing the hill to the door for new school.

The students in Miss Lopus' room elected officers twice this year in order to give more people a chance. Sandra James was the first president and Patricia Gouray the second. The class enjoyed parties at Christmas and Valentine's Day with a party for St. Patrick's.

In Mrs. Deasby's room Barbara Fornie was the president all through the year. Christmas and Easter parties were enjoyed by this group.

Many seventh graders took part in the Junior
Drama Club and in band, chorus and intramurals.
Jan Sealise represented both classes on the Student Council and Beverly Anderson represented both on the assembly committee.

To Set High Standards.

Another of those "classes on the fence", we are the last of the junior high classes here and to be part of the first freshman class up on the hill. We realize it will be a great responsibility for us to help establish the foundation of a high school of which we can always be proud. We feel happy, too, that we can spend four eventful years in the new building before graduation.

We, who have known Lakewood High School as "school" the greater part of our lives know we will miss it.

We have found quite a lot to occupy this, our last year at Lakewood. We took part in dance club, and the boys spent Mondays participating in intramurals.

Our assembly program, in which everyone had a part, was well received.

Mrs. Mildred Burk and Mr. Salvadore Calamungi have been our pleasant and helpful ~~visitors~~.

The eighth grade class officers are as follows: President, Joseph Swearingen; Vice President, Paul R. ~~Re~~; Secretary, Clint Merley; Treasurer, Walter Sorenson; Newspaper Staff, Lynne Hough, Patrick Davis, ~~Susan~~, Janet Higgins and Dan Bell; Centralian ~~Editor~~, Cynthia Loucks, Charles Trowbridge; Sports Managers, Donna Swan, David Heintzman.

Even though we were the "small fry" in junior high school this year, we will climb the ladder when we go to the new Hunt Road school next fall. We will not only say good-bye to a school we have known for most of our lives, but will find ourselves in a more dignified position as eighth graders.

This year the time sped by as we were given our first chance to move from class to class just as high school people do. We liked having a different teacher almost every period.

As our money-making project we sold attractive pencils with the school name and the basketball schedule printed on them. They proved to be a popular article again this year.

In May we presented our annual assembly program. It was hard work but we enjoyed giving it to show the others what we could accomplish.

The officers we elected were Roger Anderson, president; Marilyn Acquisto, vice president; Jean Sampson, secretary; Sandra Johnson, treasurer; James Spencer and Sandra T. ~~Swanson~~ Council; James Johnson and Judy Sparling, ~~Class~~ Representatives.

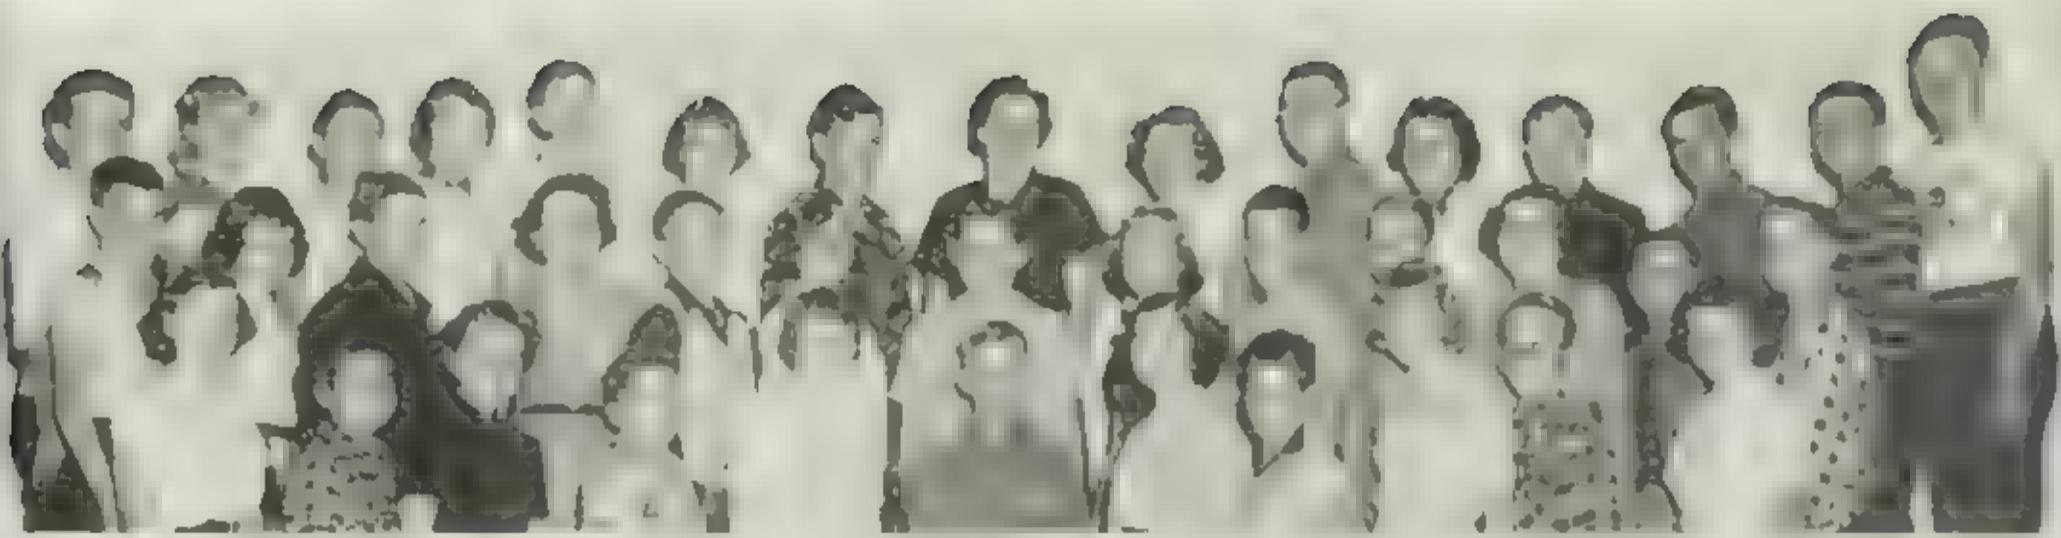

We enjoyed having Mrs. Alberta Ulmer and Mr. Milton Harp as our class faculty advisors.

They Set Echoes Ringing...

Playing good music can be a pleasant job according to the smiles of these band members

Elegantly dressed in a smart white uniform, Mr. Edward Turner slowly raised his baton before the attentive band to signify the beginning of the opening number of a new musical season. Seated on the stage were twenty new, young hopefuls and only a few veterans of other seasons, yet when the last wave of applause had died away Mr. Turner could turn with pleasure to congratulate his promising organization.

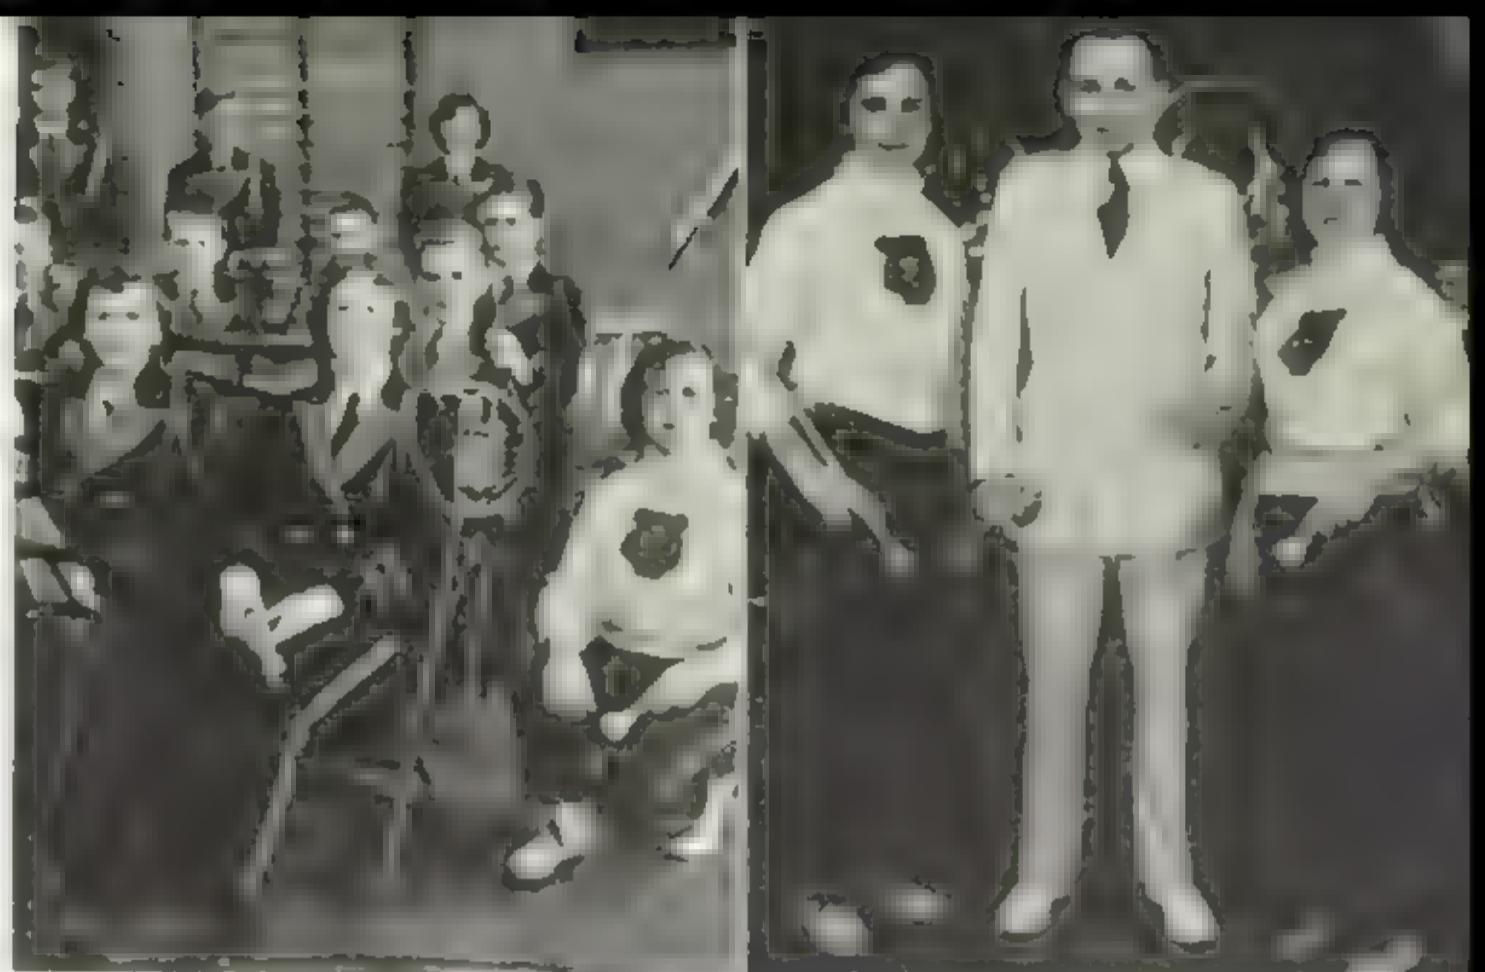

As he stood before them on the podium Mr. Turner could see the Lakewood unit's president, Priscilla Bailey in the flute section. Nearby, as a clarinetist, sat Diana Rood, her assistant. By turning his head to the oboe section he could single out dependable Nancy Helder, their secretary-treasurer, who sometimes doubles on the piano.

Behind the entire group, presiding at the drums and various other instruments stood Joanne Parker, the Celoron president. Kenneth Schneider, in the brass section, had been elected to be her vice president, and by

Southwestern's imposing band ready for one of its fine concerts which were given in both schools

... Along Memories Lane

Looking again at the flute section, Mr. Turner could find Erne Lamberson, if he wanted any of the records of the Celoron unit's minutes or financial standing.

The concerts and assembly programs of the band have proved popular this year because of the inclusion of the gay rhythm of the South Americas and excerpts from some of America's greatest light operas.

Because they found difficulty in meeting as a single group the two sections had to do much of their practicing alone. Despite the few combined rehearsals the results have been gratifying.

That Southwestern will have a truly outstanding band next year when it will be possible for the entire group to play at every rehearsal, is a foregone conclusion. The last notes of the 1953-54 concerts have ceased to re-echo along the halls of the Celoron and Lakewood Branch schools where this band spent its infancy, but even greater concerts now await in the music room to awaken even finer echoes in the new building.

Drum majorettes and conductor help make the band a smart outfit on the concert stage or as a marching unit.

A band and orchestra from the Bartow High School recently performed at the annual meeting of the Florida Music Educators Association in Lakeland. Mr. Redick directed the group.

Scenes from Lakewood...

Lakewood students have their share of pleasant memories of the many regular activities and unexpected events which happened there. The corridor monitors, the stage crew, the shop and the library all hold memories for many. The interesting lessons in their classes, the relaxing moments in the cafeteria and at parties to celebrate triumphs highlight these memories.

...You Will Long Remember

A traditional occasion was again held at Lakewood this year in all its glory and splendor. When May Day came the happy throng witnessed Dick Wiggy crowned as King Winter with Paulette Lynneck as Queen. The master of ceremonies, Paul Lynneck escorted [unclear] Othius, the maid-of-honor beneath floral arches to the platform.

Tick Penholov, senior vice-president presented the crown to the king who placed it on the queen's head. The senior vice-president Rodney Sparling bestowed [unclear] the footstool, while Peter Peterson, sophomore president, presented the queen's bouquet.

Activities

In everything, including education, there must be some relaxing activity. That is why there are various clubs and organizations at Southwestern in which one may enjoy himself, find opportunity for self-expression, make new friends, and build up a supply of pleasant memories for the future.

Our organizations all have a purpose beyond all this. Some groups learn skills which will prove helpful in our vocational or avocational experiences of the future; others have programs which stress service to others, self-betterment, or recreation.

Many of these fine organizations which have had their beginnings here will go on to expand next year.

Bob, Joan, Elaine and John see to it that the band and chorus equipment is ready for transfer to the new building

Centralian Staffs Prepare . . .

Who'd ever think the making of the annual copy of the Centralian would involve so much work? No one, to be exact, except those who have struggled through it!

What endless amounts of copy, what piles of photographs, what figuring, and measuring; what scribbling and erasing it all takes

There is one thing the future Centralian staff can be happy about, and that is the fact that they will be able to work together as one unit in the new school. This will make the entire process of producing a yearbook so much easier.

This year's staff has had a difficult time to sort out all the things it would like to say about the old schools. We have been so afraid we would forget something which should not be forgotten. Those things which have been included will serve to remind us of others, which, for one reason or another, we did not include.

Every yearbook is a book of memories, but this one, more than any other in the history of our schools, holds reminiscences which will grow more dear as time goes on.

Best Possible Farewell

Realizing we had taken on quite a task this year, the senior staff agreed to a suggestion of our advisor to have a junior staff, made up of members of the junior class, sit in on the early planning meetings to see what the publishing end of the Centralian involved. The juniors were delighted, for now a few people in the future senior class, at least, know what they are "up against." A few recognize that a yearbook staff is something like a team in sports who seeks to win a championship by close co-operation of all its members.

We are proud of the teamwork this year's staff has shown.

. . . Make Many Records.

Something new has been added this year! Of all things, a "Talking Yearbook". We are proud to be the only school in this area to try this idea. Early in the fall our technical director, Mr. Turner, began to collect material from sports events, programs, and other activities on a tape recorder. Then a try-out was held for commentators. The winners were given the task of writing and recording the script to accompany the sound already recorded. The completed tape was sent to the recording company and you will find the result full of surprises.

Seniors and Juniors . . .

Unanimously chosen by the play reading committee, "One Foot in Heaven" was one of the most ambitious undertakings of the seniors.

The story of the trials and tribulations of a small town minister and his family about 1910, the story was full of inspiration, smiles, tears, and laughter.

Every type of small-town church-goer was represented, from the choir singer with no voice to the malicious busy-body who sets out to ruin the minister's reputation if he insists upon putting the church above the individual.

The addition of a lively pair of "parsonage children" added to the fun and nicely balanced the more serious scenes where their father was accused of everything from dressing too well to heresy.

When a young daughter returns from college full of ideas on human behavior and attempts to test her family and their friends something is bound to happen. Happen it did in "The Little Dog Laughed". Not only the little dog but the audience laughed at the array of events which followed each other in rapid succession. For some, the revelation of their inner selves was rewarding, for others it was not.

"All the world's a stage" to those who love to act. A number of the Masqueraders and Thespians love to act so much that when they ran out of material they wrote their own. Early in the fall an original musical comedy, "Get Happy" was produced by the group.

In the spring the Thespians took their original one-act play "Fallen Star" to the Fredonia play festival. The two plays were quite a contrast as one was definitely a comedy and the other definitely tragedy.

Their last year at Celoron will be a memorable one for these young dramatists.

Newspaper Staffs . . .

This year, the last year in this famed and historical school on Lakeview Avenue, the "Trojan Star" prospered. Relating all news and events, it has not only become a tradition of the school but also a provider of experience for the future journalist. A few of the seniors met in early October to elect some of the leaders of the newspaper. Prudence Mitchell was chosen to assist David Truax, the elected editor. Marcia Anderson was appointed business manager.

The first issue was prepared for sale on November 3, with the able assistance of Mrs. Nelson. It included articles from the grades as well as from the high school. News was also brought in from the various school activities, fraternities and sororities. Original compositions, novelty articles, and editorials were included by staff members.

As part of her duties, Norma David has successfully headed the circulation department. Exchanges of papers with surrounding high schools in Chautauqua County have given this staff an opportunity to view the work of other student journalists.

The members of the newspaper staff hope that the "Trojan Star" will continue to carry on next year in the new building as successfully as it has for the past two years.

Other members of the staff are: Sports Editors, Doris Larson and Sheldon Burstrom; Art Editors, Coralyn Shearman and Cynthia Miller; Mimeographers, Barbara Thompson and Peggy Bergstrom; Head Typist, Beverly Carlson; and Faculty Advisors, Mrs. Eileen Nelson and Mr. Theodore Rininger.

"Let's really dig in this year!" were the familiar words of Mrs. Chase at the first meeting of the Crystal. The different types of work on a newspaper were introduced to the new members. These varied from reporting to typing to circulation. How many realized then the work necessary to publish a school paper? An election was held and the long ritual began under the guidance of Patsy Hyde, editor, with the aid of Anita Flood, co-editor. Complaints of numerous typing errors of previous years were rectified by the careful check of the proctress. Elsie Lucas Donald Mudge applied his artistic talents to the covers each month.

This year the Crystal crew tried new interests to the paper. A section for the seventh and eighth grades was set up. Prizes were given the person who did the most work each month. The staff labored to supply interesting school news and sports as well as the usual jokes, gossip, ...ing reporter, and other features. A banquet was held to celebrate the successful year of the C.P.S.I.

The Crystalet is published monthly for the grade school students. It is edited by Desire Johnsen with the aid of her staff, Nancy Gibbs, art editor; Loy Seager, feature editor, and Wendy Williams, news editor. Mrs. Chase is advisor of this paper, too. Homeroom news and stories, a who's who, clever drawings, tricks, and games were compiled to make this paper appeal to the younger.

The Crystalet has succeeded in obtaining many new readers and has made many readers very pleased by publishing their original poems and other work.

In the new school the newspaper of Lakewood and Clinton will be combined and the result will prove to be a newspaper of which to be proud.

CELORON STUDENT COUNCIL

The student council enjoyed a favorable year under the guidance of Mr. Miller. Meetings were conducted by the council's head man, Frank Malare. Acting as vice-president was Donna Edwards while Shervna Hansen kept the minutes.

One of the beneficial activities was a clothing drive. The students co-operated on this scheme wonderfully and the clothes were used wisely. We know that this and many other vital dues will be transferred to the modern school to help solve some of the problems of student welfare today.

LAKWOOD STUDENT COUNCIL

Hall supervision, hall patrol, May Day activities, assembly programs and student government are some of the duties performed by the Lakewood Student Council.

The members, elected from grades seven through twelve, work daily to make the school a congenial place for both students and teachers.

Sports

Sports, too, have their part in a school curriculum, and here at Southwestern they play an important part. Those who participate get good training in sportsmanship, team work, and fair play. Like the best of schools, we win and we lose, but through it all we are proud of our teams. Not only the participants but the spectators get a thrill from a good game well played, and at that tense moment in any game spectators and team are one inseparable unit.

Our teams have not always enjoyed the facilities which will soon be theirs, but they have developed assets which no amount of equipment in the world can provide.

Mr. Shevalier, Frank, Art, and Bob pack sports equipment to leave Celoron.

Cinder Stars

Southwestern's speed merchants pounded around the track and piled up first place honors to take a meet from Falconer on May 16. The boys with honor laurels were such runners as Jack Penhollow in the 100 yard; Phil Ellsworth first in the mile; Penhollow first in the 220 with Carlson second; Crocker first in the 440; Evinczik first in the 880; Robbins second on the low hurdles; Warner first in the shot put and discus; Wigley first in the broad jump. Southwestern was also first in the relay.

The main event in all the hearts of the boys was the Section VI meet held at Amherst High on June 6, 1953. The boys didn't walk off with first place but they took fourth place, just one-half point behind third place. The boys who won honors for the team were Penhollow, second in the 100 yard; Phil Ellsworth first in the mile with a 4:39.3 run; Crocker, fourth in the 440; Carlson second in the 220; Evinczik third in the 880; and SWCS third in the relay run.

Again the pound of feet, and again the victory cheer, as SWCS rang up another victory over Westfield and Silver Creek. Again the first place laurels rested on the chests of SWCS speed merchants. This time Carlson placed first in the 100 and 200 yard dashes; Crocker second in the 440; Evinczik first in the 880; Ellsworth first in the mile; Robbins second in the low hurdles; Warner first in both the shot put and discus; Krueger first in the high jumps; and SWCS first in the relay.

To the team and the coach, Coach Joe Rushin, we give three cheers and hearty congratulations for a good season.

Phil Ellsworth, one of Southwestern's best long distance runners, has made quite a name for himself on Buffalo State Teachers College Cross Country squad. In the words of his coach, "He has been an important factor in the success with which State's hill-and-dalers have met this season." As examples of his outstanding work, Phil won the Niagara District AAU five mile cross country, then went ahead to capture honors in the New York State Track and Field Association championships; and gained first place at the Canisius College invitation event.

"S" Club Scores Success in Salesmanship

With the membership of the "S" Club at 25, under the guidance of Coach Rushin we were repaid with another successful year.

To begin the year the boys were organized to elect officers to get the ball rolling. They were: President, Gary Johnson; Vice President, Sam Gerace; and Treasurer, Eric Ecklund.

The activities for the year ranged from operating the concession stands during football, basketball and baseball seasons to staging a dance after the Jamestown basketball game at the Celoron gym.

All were successful. Some of the profits were spent for more jackets and the remainder was turned over to next year's club with the hope that they might use it to purchase a coffee maker for the concession stand.

We extend our gratitude to coach Rushin for all he has done to help the "S" Club in its successful accomplishments.

The stellar sackmen of Southwestern led by Coach Dick Shevalier were an impressive team this year. Playing with three veterans and some strong support from the rest of the team, they came out even with a 3-3 record. Walter Carlson and Dick Wigley were the mainstays on the mound for the Trojans. Next year's team will have the advantage of six lettermen which will make for a strong team. Good luck boys.

Young Trojans Show Promise

Young hopefuls trying for a spot in the varsity lineup next year had a lean year this season. Their record stands at 5 wins and 7 losses. Playing varsity combines with a sophomore squad and a few junior boys, they held their own. It was a give-and-take-season. Frank Traniello, Dave Sperry, Fred Carpenter, and Ken Sprinkle handled the mound chores, with Gary Johnson as backstop. In spite of a handicapping start the team showed promise and was full of Trojan fighting spirit.

THE EARTHQUAKE was a violent shock

Basketeers Finish Season...

The Men of Troy, clad in white and blue, finished this year's season with a record of 6 wins — 10 losses. The team was an inexperienced team who played on their home court in the opening games of the season. These boys gradually found themselves and developed into a skilled and speedy basketball team. It is hard to determine the heroes of a basketball team as they co-operated with each other like a trained machine. The team of Robbins, Carlson, Tramel, Johnson and Miller carried the burden throughout most of the season supported by a fine bench consisting of Reeves, Olson, Gerace, Grule, and Carpenter. Last but not least the one who deserves three cheers for drilling the boys is the talented coach Coach Vic Mansen. A very good team! Never a bad coach!

. . Showing Future Promise As . .

Under the guidance of Southwestern's newest coach, Edward Smith, the fledgling basketball players won out in a hard fought season with a fine record of ten wins and six losses.

The team was adept in the art of ball handling and teamwork. With a little more experience on the court these men will be excellent material for the new school's varsity team.

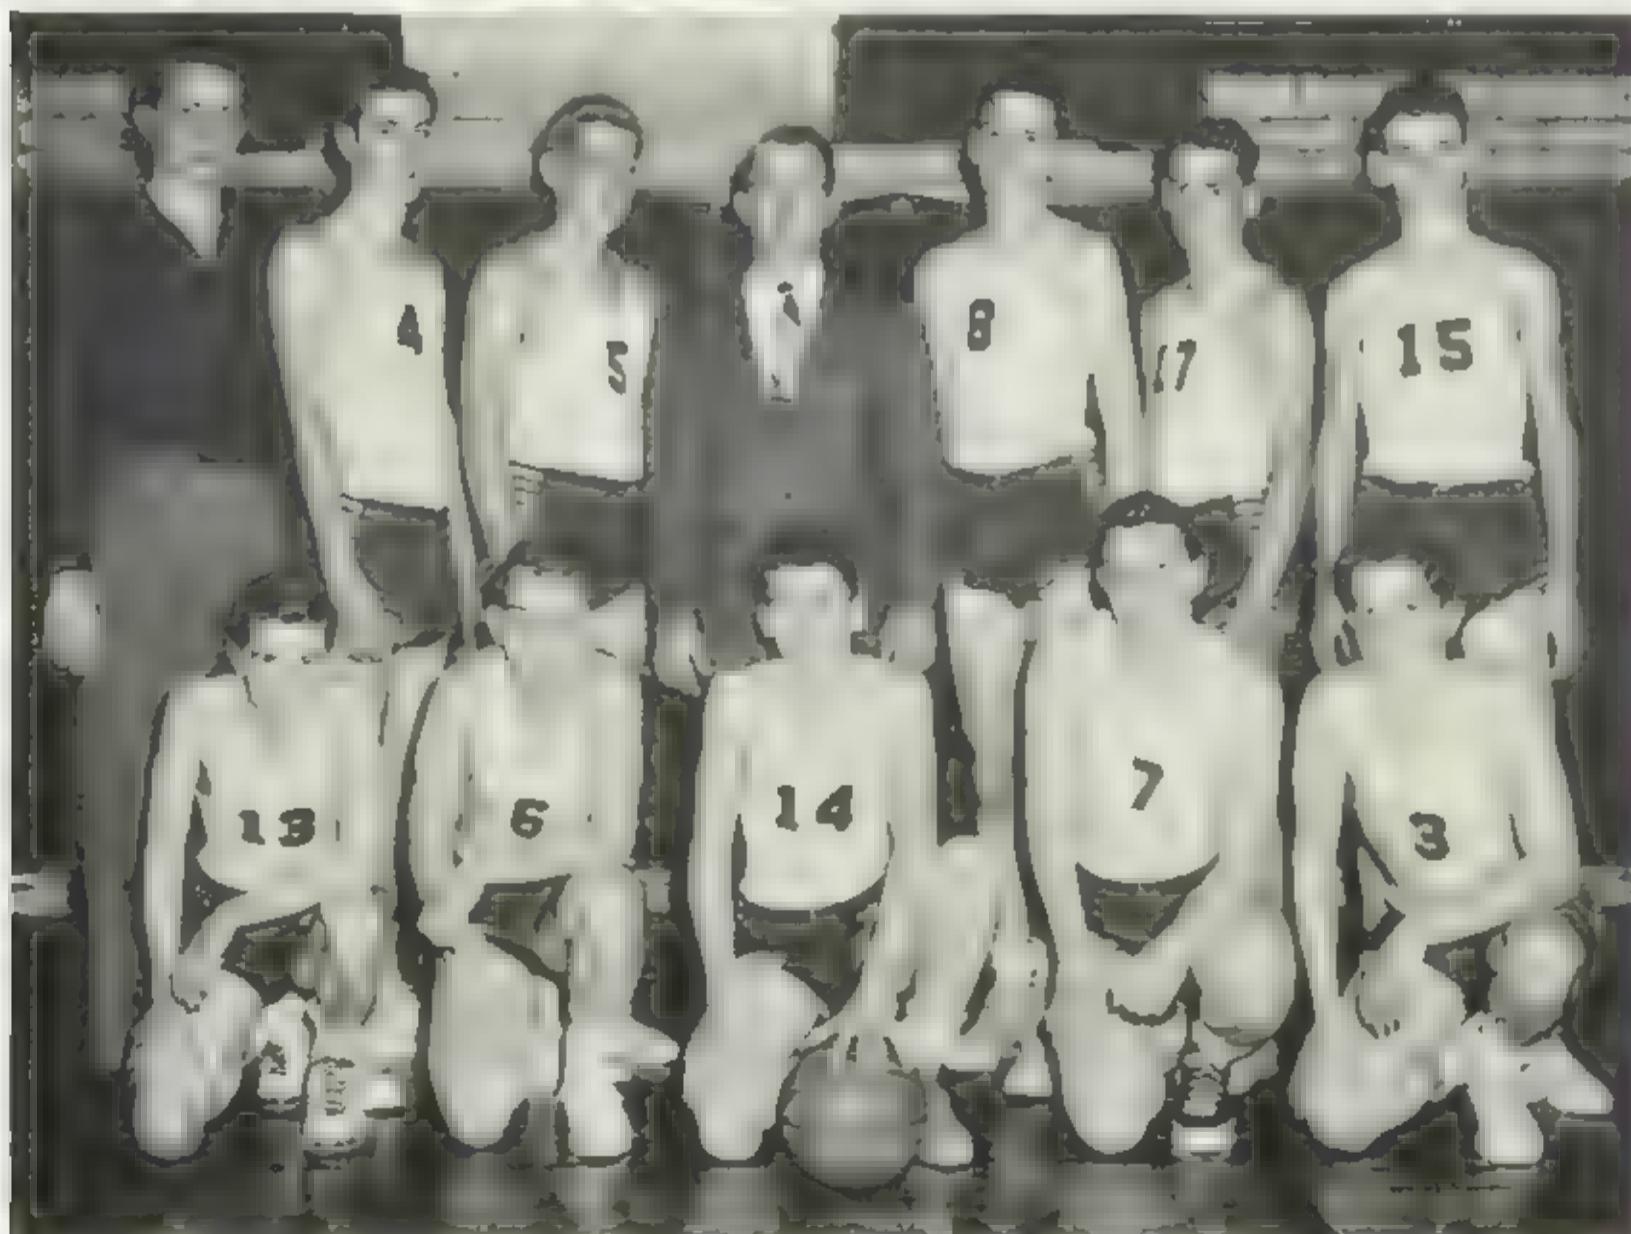

Singling out individuals for starring roles was difficult as these boys worked as a team and seemed to concentrate on perfecting a team action rather than highlighting individual stars.

Most of the team has a good "head start" as far as height goes, an asset to any basketball team. Next fall should see a few more inches yet added to some players' height.

With the background of techniques they learned here and the facilities available at the new school, Southwestern's star should shine in basketball another season.

Volleyball Champs

Southwestern did it again. Under the capable guidance of Coach Shevalier, we again soared to the championship of the Southern Tier of Chautauqua County. Southwestern was represented at Jamestown at the annual tournament by Robert Reeves, Robert Plank, Walter Carlson, Eric Erickson, Gordon Robbins, John Scorse, Sam Gerace, Kenneth Schneider, Kenneth Sprinkle, Richard Vanham, and Gary Johnson.

Dunkirk was the first team to fall prey to the small but scrappy Trojans. They fell in two sets. Jamestown was next on the list, but the Raiders forced them to settle for a split. Stinging from their single defeat the Trojans overpowered Falconer High 15-4, 15-6. Southwestern and Jamestown were then forced to play a single game play-off. Through the bullet-like spiking of John Scorse and Wally Carlson, the near-perfect setting of Sammy Gerace and Dick Vanham, and the brilliant defensive play of Bob Reeves, the Trojans eliminated the Raiders from the tourney by trouncing them 15-4. Later in the afternoon the Trojans just couldn't get under motion and fell before Cassadaga Valley 9-15 and 10-15.

Southwestern, now the "A" champs of the Southern Tier, journeyed to Dunkirk and were pitted against Frontier. After taking the first game the Trojans were defeated by the closest of scores in the remaining two games. The scores were: 15-8, 15-17, and 13-15.

Advertisers

Our many thanks to the businessmen who have co-operated by advertising in this Centralian. Most of our advertisers are local business establishments to whom we seniors, some of whom may be the future businessmen of this area, wish to express our appreciation and assure them of our continued patronage. Other advertisers are firms from far places who have been providing equipment, materials, and services to help make our new school the most beautiful one in this area. To them we express a special debt of gratitude for wishing to join with us in this, our last copy of the Centralian produced through the combined efforts of two separate branch schools to which we now say our last farewells.

Rodney, Johanna, and Dave plan the campaign for this year's advertising.
